MORE BIRDS MOVEMENT

The National Audubon Society's New Undertaking.

New York, Oct. 9.—To induce every property owner in the United States to increase the number of birds on his land is the avowed purpose of a movement just launched in New York, according to an announcement made by T. Gilbert Pearson, Secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies. "Ten thousand dollars have just been subscribed for this purpose," said Mr. Pearson. "This new work, which we may call the 'More-birds Movement,' will consist, in part, of establishing throughout the country many experimental stations for attracting birds. Bird-boxes, feeding and drinking devices, and similar artificial apparatus, will be set up in suitable places on estates to serve as object-lessons to all people of the region."

It is understood that attractively illustrated bulletins explaining this subject, as well as the propagation of grouse, quail, wild turkeys, ducks and geese, will be issued and given wide distribution. The propaganda will also be furnished by means of lectures, slides and motion pictures. This enterprise will be under the charge of Herbert K. Job, the well-known author and bird-protectionist. Mr. Job has resigned the office of State Ornithologist of Connecticut, where he won a wide reputation of a lecturer and bird-culturist, and will at once take up his work of the Audubon Association. William Rockefeller, William P. Clyde, George Eastman, Samuel Thorne and Edward C. Converse are among the subscribers to the support of this promising new advance in Audubon work.

Prize Winner Left Out.

In the list of poultry awards published in the Kentuckian Thursday, the name of Mrs. Clarence Holman was unintentionally omitted. One of Mrs. Holman's Black Orpington pullets won first prize in hot competition and she should have been given due credit.

Madam McNutt Makes a Cure Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 1, 1914.

Editor Kentuckian: Will you allow space in your valuable paper to tell about the Seventh Girl with the Wonderful Works, who can tell you where to find hidden treasures? Was born in Milledgeville, Ga., and raised by one of the most noted lawyers in the South, Mr. Wm. McKinley. She lives at South-east corner of Jones St., in Hopkinsville, Madam McNutt. I, J. H. Bowman, am a witness that Madam is no fake and she is just what she professes to be in everything. I further state that my wife was lying under the care of two doctors, and a prominent doctor said there was no chance for her to get well without operating on her. He said she would not live 24 hours, but, thank God, that she is up and doing her work. Mr. W. T. Doherty and wife are also witnesses that my wife was given up by the doctors, who said she was past medical aid, and Madam McNutt restored her to health.

PATTON MUST PAY $1,000

If He Telephones To Former Book-keeper Within 1 Year.

Louisville, Ky., October 9—Edward Patton, a contracting carpenter, must pay $1,000 if he calls up his former book-keeper within one year.

Patton was arrested on complaint of Miss Irene Schneider, who testified in Police Court that he forced his attentions on her since she left his office, and that he frequently called her over the telephone as many as five times a day. Patton denied the charge and said that the only attention he ever paid her was to give her a "box of candy" for $1. Following the hearing of testimony Patton was placed under a $1,000 peace bond.

Forest Notes.

Six thousand bushels of lodgepole pine seed are being collected this fall on the Arapaho national forest, Colorado, for use in reforestation work next spring.

The Philippine bureau of forestry has recently invited bids for the cutting of nearly 300,000 acres of choice timberland on the public forests on the island of Luzon.

Officers of the Okanogan national forest in the state of Washington are installing powerful signal lanterns for night use in reporting forest fires from lookout peaks.

It is said that the first sawmill in the United States was at Jamestown, from which sawed boards are exported in June 1607. A water-powered sawmill was in use in 1625 near the present site of Richmond.

California yew which grows on the national forests of that state is finding some use in the present-day archery practice. Its qualities closely resemble those of old-world yew which made the English long-bow famous in mediaeval times.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided that the amount of damage collectible on growing timber set on fire through negligence is not only the value of the wood destroyed, but also the injury to the property as a whole through the destruction of the young growth.
